Jakobsen Conference

The 19th Annual Jakobsen F. Memorial Conference seeks to engage graduate students across campus and across disciplines in conversations about Trends and Transformations their work has identified, explored, and questioned. We welcome both research and creative works presentations from all graduate students at the University of Iowa, and encourage everyone to take this opportunity to present their research! You can find the application portal and submissions guidelines here, deadline is Monday, January 30. Following the scheduled poster and panel sessions, we will hold a reception with free food, one free drink ticket for presenters, and announce the winners of the paper prizes! Any questions you might have can be directed to Conference Committee Chair Jan Faith. We look forward to seeing you there!

Time Management - Thriving in Graduate School: Learn to minimize distraction, analyze your workload, implement expert time management strategies, and maximize your productivity.

- February 2, 2017 (Thursday) at 12pm-1pm in UCC 1117 Registration link

Speed Friending - Want to meet new people?

A gloriously platonic approach to meeting friends and colleagues, Speed Friending works like speed dating but less awkward. You hang with one person for three to five minutes and then switch partners till you meet everyone in the room. Come and enjoy appetizers, a warm atmosphere, and a fun social game!

- February 10, 2017 (Friday) at 7pm-8pm at The Vine, RSVP to natalie-e-brown@uiowa.edu

NIH Fellowship Workshop - Looking for tips as you apply for your next grant?

The ability to write successful grant applications is a valuable skill for graduate students to develop and hone throughout their careers. These workshops are designed to offer a brief, but informative introduction for students who are unfamiliar with grant writing and the application process. This presentation will include the basics of thinking about and writing a grant proposal.

- February 24, 2017 (Friday) at 11:30am-1pm at CBRB 2189 Registration link

Parenting in Academia - A panel discussion on the joys and challenges

Join us for an open forum discussing the joys and challenges of parenting in academia. Hear from faculty members, a post-doc researcher and a graduate student, all with very different parenting experiences. Bring your questions — this event will be question and answer format after a brief introduction.

- March 9, 2017 (Thursday) at 12noon-1pm at UCC 1117 Registration link

- Announcement about Brain Bee

The 2017 Brain Bee for Eastern Iowa is an event run by the Neuroscience Outreach Committee I. This event is for high school students and gives them a tour of UIHC research facilities and the opportunity to compete in the Brain Bee. The Brain Bee winner goes on to represent Eastern Iowa at the National Brain Bee in March. This year, our Brain Bee is on February 4. We need graduate student volunteers to help guide high school students during their tour and/or to monitor the Brain Bee competition. There will be a sign-up sheet at seminar, January 17. Lunch is included.
